Number 272.

Art. XIII.—The Melting Points of Cristobalite and Tridy-mitre; by J. B. Ferguso and H. E. Merwin .......... 417

XIV.—The Application of Rapidly Rotating Metallic Re-ductors in the Determination of Vanadic Acid; by F. A.
Gooch and W. Scott .......................... 427

XV.—Notes on the Geology of Rhode Island; by A. C.
Hawkins ....................................... 437

XVI.—A Possible Source of Vanadium in Sedimentary
Rocks; by A. H. Phillips ....................... 473

Geology and Mineralogy—Fossil Plants: a text-book for students of Botany and Geology, A. C. Seward, 475.—The Cedar Mountain Trap Ridge near Hartford, W. M. Davis, 476.—Canada Department of Mines, 477.—Contributions to the Mineralogy of Black Lake Area, Quebec, E. Poitevin and R. P. D. Graham, 479.

Miscellaneous Scientific Intelligence—Field Museum of Natural History, F. J.
V. Skiff: The Sarawak Museum Journal, 479.—The Normal and Pathological Histology of the Mouth, A. Hopewell-Smith: Helvetica Chimica Acta, 480.